

As a mom of two young children, I find it appalling that you would even consider lowering the standards of what's allowed on television. It is one of my jobs to protect my kids as much as I can while they are in my care. It's sad that we can't even sit down to watch a "family friendly" show without being inundated with tasteless commercials or adult innuendos....let alone the fowl language that already exists!!! If you lower your standards our family WILL drop our satellite subscription!
